

Russian Literature From 1917 to the Present

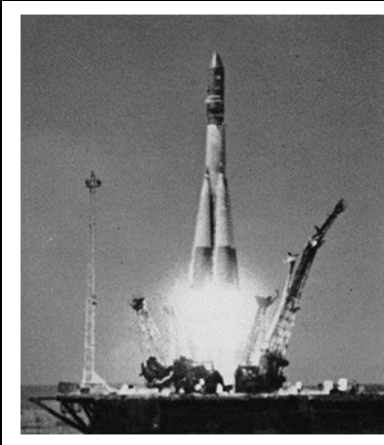

Russian 274 Spring 2015

TuTh: 11:00 am —12:15 pm

Instructor: Radislav Lapushin

This course examines one of the most eventful and dynamic periods in Russian history and culture. It will lead us from Revolution and Civil War to industrialization and GULAG, World War, post-Stalinism, including the “Thaw,” the “period of stagnation,” Perestroika, and, finally, post-Modernism.

Readings and class discussions in English.

Germanic and Slavic
Languages and Literatures

UNC
COLLEGE OF
ARTS & SCIENCES