

RUSS 450
Spring 2015

The Russian Absurd

Instructor: Radislav Lapushin

Email: lapushin@email.unc.edu

This course examines "The Absurd" in Russian literature and culture as it developed from the 19th century to the present. Through works by important Russian writers (Gogol, Dostoevsky, Chekhov, Nabokov), students explore facets of "The Russian Absurd" viewed as a literary, cultural, and social phenomenon.

Class time:

TuTh: 2:00 – 3:15

Class location:

Dey Hall 402