

Spring 2016

GERM 303: Introduction to German Literature

The course will give an overview of German literature, culture, and politics. It will highlight works from various periods, engage in discussions about German literature, and encourage students to think and re-think the significance of literary production beyond the confines of the written word.

Readings and class discussions in German.

Pre- or Co-Requisite: GERM 301 or 302

Approach: Literary Arts

*Connections: Communication Intensive
North Atlantic World*

