

Fall 2016
GERM 325: Fools and Laughter in Early Modern German Literature

Ruth von Bernuth
TTH 9:30-10:45 am

This course will explore the multiple meanings of the German term “fool” in works from the 15th to the 18th century. It will provide insights into the shifting mental attitudes, values and norms of German society and culture.

Readings and class discussion in German.

Literary Arts, North Atlantic World, World Before 1750

UNC
COLLEGE OF
ARTS & SCIENCES
ARTS & SCIENCES