

That Strange Thing called ~~Love~~ Lust in German Theater

GERM374: German Theater and Drama

with Dr. Tin Wegel

This advanced German literature course will take you out of the traditional classroom and plunge you right into a performance space. We will not only read and discuss dramas centered around the topics of sex, betrayal, death, and that thing called love, but we will also put on a full-length performance of one German play. Both the performance and the discussions in class will afford you a more thorough understanding of the forces at work within different plays. You will immerse yourself in the literary, social, political, and historical context of the latter half of the 19th century, as well as read seminal texts about performance theory.

Readings, discussions, and rehearsals in German Prerequisite: GERM303 or permission of instructor

Class: Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:30 to 10:45 AM

Rehearsals: Wednesdays from 5:30 to 8:30 PM starting on February 1

Approach: Visual/Performing Arts

Connections: North Atlantic World; Experiential Education

Spring 2017