German 301 is an advanced language and literature course in which you will discuss a variety of contemporary texts and films. Throughout the course, we will consider how and why various characters make decisions and connect those decisions to larger themes in contemporary German-speaking societies and cultures. This course also provides advanced language learners with opportunities to strengthen their written and verbal communication skills.