

☆ Why was occupied Germany divided into two states after World War II?

☆ Were the Cold War and division inevitable?

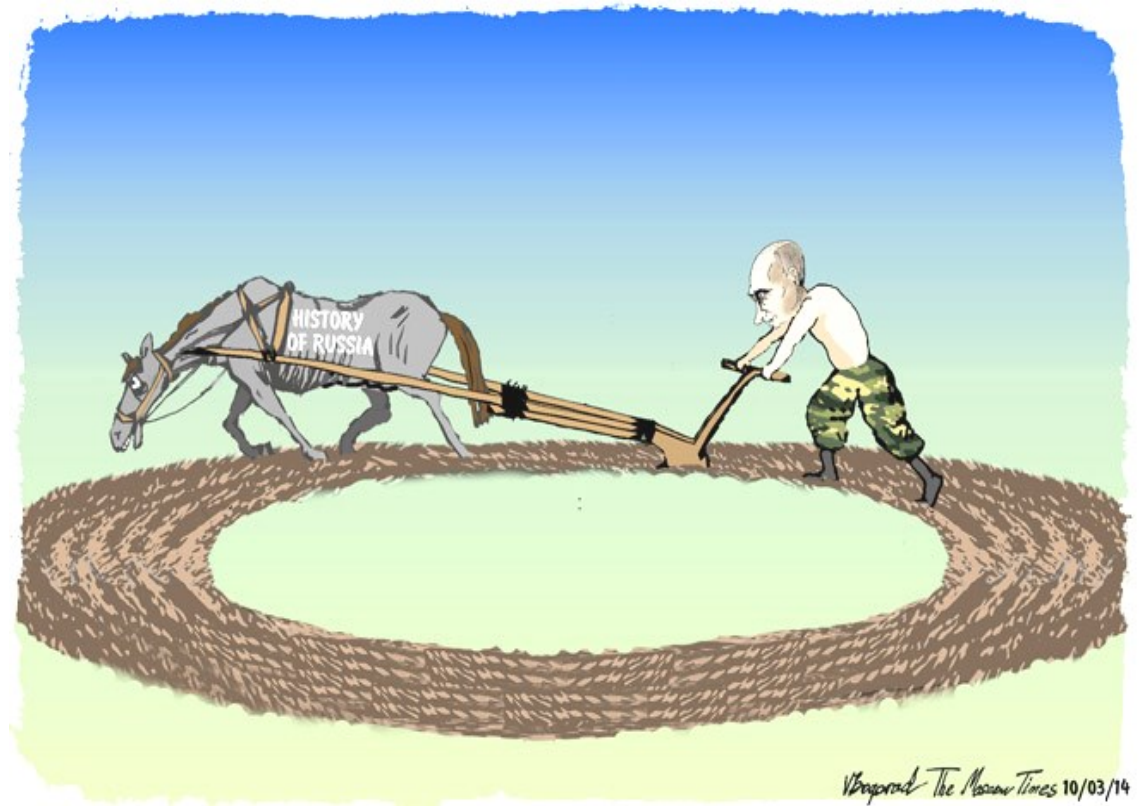

GSSL 254H will explore these questions in two chronological contexts: 1945-1949 and 1989-present, with emphasis on the reemergence of Western conflict with Putin's Russia.

Previously offered as GERM 254 H

Readings and class discussions in English

Approach: Historical Analysis

Connection: North Atlantic World

The Division of Germany, Reunification, and Conflict with Russia

Honors Seminar

Honors Carolina students register online when their registration appointment begins. Online registration ends April 17. After that date, submit a wait list request at honorscarolina.unc.edu/waitlist.

Non-honors students wishing to enroll should submit a wait list request at honorscarolina.unc.edu/waitlist beginning April 17.

3.000 or higher cumulative GPA is required to enroll in any Honors course.

GSSL 254H

TTH 2:00 - 3:15 PM

Dr. David Pike

Fall 2017